Update on Our Financial Status

Dear Congregation,

We are writing to provide you an update on our church's financial status and provide some views on actions being taken and thoughts on what we can all do as members. Pick your headline – “Economic Crisis,” “Recession,” “Job Cutbacks,” “Dow Down,” the economic news is bad news, and there is not a bottom we can predict. We also know that all areas of the economy are affected – public companies, government agencies, school districts, and, yes, churches. So what is the impact on Country Club Christian Church, what actions are being taken, and what can we do as members of the congregation?

Economic Impact

Our Church is clearly being impacted by the downturn. Although we were able to successfully raise funds at the end of last year to retire the $50,000 budget shortfall, more recent financial measures are very concerning.

- For the first seven months of the church calendar year, through January 2009, actual pledged giving is about 13 percent short of budgeted pledge giving. This shortfall amounts to $119,000 of donations that we had expected to receive at this point in the year. While a portion of these dollars are hopefully just “delayed,” we know that some of these funds will not be coming to the church.
- The church endowment is down more than 30 percent for the fiscal year, unfortunately in line with the indexes for the long-term portfolio mix of bonds and stocks. The endowment is not usually used for current operations, but provides important funding for capital projects, and other special projects.

Actions Being Taken

First, staff members and lay leaders have been asked to hold expenses at or below budget for the year. This year's budgets for activities other than outreach and personnel are 10 percent less than last year's budgets for those activities, so this will not be easy. Everyone is working hard to minimize expenditures while still maintaining quality ministry and programs.

Second, we are beginning the budget process for the 2009-2010 fiscal year now, well ahead of the July 1 start of the year, and before members begin making pledges for the year. The goal is to allow time to really understand the cost structure of the church and then match resources to the exciting programs that fulfill the vision for the church.

What Else Can We Do?

One obvious action is to fulfill your current fiscal year pledge. The church appreciates your financial support and counts on pledged funds to plan our ministries. However, if your current economic circumstances are such that you and your family can't fulfill your pledge, please contact Sandy Eisenman at the church. That knowledge will help us with managing resource allocation and decision-making.

For the many members involved in councils and committees, please actively participate in the upcoming budgeting process. As always, we have to be conscious and thoughtful about how to deliver on the vision of the church, how to do the work of the church, and how to do it in a financially responsible manner.

Finally, be thoughtful about the life of Country Club Christian Church and its role in your family and our community. We must keep in mind the church's overall mission – Strength for the Journey. Grace for the Soul. Especially in these unsettled economic times, our church's ministry and programs are needed in the community. We will soon be starting a stewardship process that will need the full support and ownership of all members of this congregation.

We hope this information is helpful. If you have questions or suggestions, please feel free to contact us. Thanks and God bless.

When It All Looks Hopeless Get Ready for Something New

by Dr. R. Glen Miles

Abraham is married to Sara, an old woman. They have no children. God comes into that situation and says, “Perfect. Just the way I like to work. Everything looks hopeless, therefore everything is set up for a blessing.”

Too often we make the mistake of thinking that before God will do anything in our lives, before we can sense any work of the spirit, we need to get everything together personally; we need to earn our way to God’s favor; we need to show that we can do it on our own. We make a similar mistake in the local church, too. We sometimes think that we must be in total control before God can do anything in our congregation.

The biblical message is very clear though: God does not wait for us to finally show how good we have become or how skilled or even how kind or how gracious; God just comes after us and says, as Jesus did to the disciples, “Follow me.”

Or, as God said to childless Abraham, “I will bless you with more children than there are stars or grains of sand even.” What looks empty to us is, for God, a place to do something new.

This is really the marvel of the biblical message and biblical faith. God uses that part of you and your life that is less than perfect, and in THAT very place makes something new happen.

Notice that the word to Abraham is not given as instruction or discipline but as promise. Walter Brueggemann calls this “a paradigm for resurrection.”

What part of you is less than perfect? When you honestly (and I mean honestly!) look at your life, where are you the most vulnerable, where are you the most helpless, where are you in need of “resurrection?” It is there, in that very place, where God wants to do something new.

That is not an easy thing to accept. I don’t always want to be that honest before God but the longer I am in ministry and the more I seek to follow Jesus, the clearer it has become: God wants to step into the most chaotic and confusing aspects of my life and in those very places, do something new. Who knows, but maybe, just maybe, in the midst of all the questions that you and I face every day, God is ready and willing, in those very places, to do something new and amazing.

Grace and peace to you,

Virginia Reed Food Drive Is Mar. 22

On Sun., Mar. 22, please bring your nonperishable food items for our collection for local food pantries that serve the homeless and hungry. Vans will be in the parking lot to receive your food or it can be placed in the barrels located at the east and north doors.

Food items needed include peanut butter, cereal, rice, pasta and canned fruits, vegetables and soups. We also purchase food in case lots for the pantries, so cash donations are welcome. Please mark your donation "Food Drive."

Sign Up Begins for Grace at Work

Beginning on Sun., Mar. 22 you can sign up for the second annual Grace at Work volunteer effort coming Sat., Apr. 18. This half-day event is open to all ages and abilities.

Experience fellowship while assisting others in need and creating visible change in our community. There is a broad range of volunteer opportunities to choose from in the Kansas City area, including our own Country Club Christian Church. If you are handy with a tool or two or can act as a helpful assistant, our partner Grace United Community Ministries needs you. At this location you will enhance the property, beautify an existing classroom or help build much needed storage for their on-going community food pantry.

Families with children 6 and older may want to consider volunteering at Harvesters. At Harvesters volunteers will sort the food so needed in our community – you may even get to wash an egg!

Upcoming Musical Events

by David Diebold, Minister of Music

As I write my column today, there are two events approaching in the next six weeks that I'd like to share with you. Both of them will be a great opportunity to hear music that we generally do not hear on a regular basis.

On Sun., Mar. 29 at 3:30 p.m., our new Associate Organist, Brian Campbell, will present a short recital in the sanctuary. Brian recently completed all of his work for his Doctor of Musical Arts degree at KU and his degree will be conferred soon. Among the many gifts he brings to us, he is a fine performer. This will be a great opportunity to not only hear him in recital, but also to meet him afterward and get to know him. He will present works by J. S. Bach and Louis Vierne. Two Bach works are scheduled: the exciting "Toccata in F Major" and the "Sonata II." He will close with Louis Vierne's "Carillon de Westminster." All three of these works will show off his talent and the organ. Please join us Mar. 29 to "meet the new organist." A reception will follow in the Parlor.

The second program will take place on Good Friday, Apr. 10, at 7:00 p.m. That evening, the Chancel Choir, accompanied by a string orchestra, trumpets, harp, organ, and timpani, will present Maurice Duruflé's "Requiem" dating from the late 1940s. This work, written in memory of his father, is at once intimate and personal. Unlike many such works, he does not dwell on the darker texts of the "Mass for the Dead." Rather his music, based on the proscribed chants for this service, brings comfort to those who are grieving. Without a doubt, this Requiem is my favorite modern work for chorus for no matter what my mood, I can listen to all or part of this work and find my spirits are lifted to a higher level. Join us Apr. 10 for this amazing, emotional work.

Argentine Food Kitchen Crew Served 2,423 lunches in 2008

The Argentine Food Kitchen Crew of Country Club Kitchen Church served 2,423 lunches in 2008. The crew serves the first Tuesday of each month at the Cross-Lines community outreach facility in Kansas City, KS.

Under the coordination of Cindy Thornton and Carol Pasley, various Sunday School classes generously donated a combination of money to purchase food and prepared and cooked part of the meal. The food kitchen and the grateful clients call our day "Taco Tuesday" as taco salad is always served along with fruit, chips and a dessert. The cost of groceries for a typical day costs about $350, including 80 pounds of hamburger for the taco salad. The food is transported to the facility and then served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

We have a great group of regular volunteers in addition to Cindy and Carol—Anne and Virginia Reed, Bob Marty, Tom Tompkins, Dave Hewitt, Tom Thornton, Martha Leiser and Lisa Schmidt. And our longtime (18 years) and long-suffering dishwasher, Max Deweese, has cleaned more trays and pots and pans than you want to think about! We also have several volunteers who are on call in case we are short-handed, which is much appreciated.

None of this could be done without the contributions from the Sunday School classes, the choir, other church groups and support by the Outreach Council. The need has been increasing steadily though-out last year and 250 lunches were served on Jan. 6 this year. We are thankful for all the support from the members of the church to enable this important food ministry to be carried out in a time of growing need. You can be assured that the recipients are thankful as can be seen by their smiles and thanks and "God Bless You's" as they come through the line!

Children's Musical Enthralls

Forty children entertained a standing room only crowd on Mar. 1 in the Social Hall with their presentation of It's Cool in the Furnace, under the direction of Ms. Laine Riley, Associate Director of Music.

Club Kids spent an afternoon on Feb. 22 snow tubing in Weston, MO.

Service Opportunity: Your Green Team Needs You!

In the next six months the Green Team will be tackling several projects and needs your time and talent. Four short-term task forces are being assembled to address specific areas.

We need help with installing and the initial maintenance of the Rain Garden, Edible Landscaping, and the Peter Rabbit Garden. Our three grounds projects could also use some plant donations. We are using some commonly found perennials that can be separated out of home gardens or purchased at a local nursery. The following landscape materials are also needed: limestone landscaping rocks, crushed gravel or river rock, compost, and mulch.

We are also looking for people interested in finding the best option for the church's coffee cups and the best option in low-flow toilets bathrooms by the Sanctuary (four units have already been sponsored). As we begin these green efforts at the church we also want to offer some green-themed classes for the congregation next fall and are looking for an education coordinator as well as task force members.

If you would like to join the Green Team in general, we are also looking for a few new members who are passionate about Creation Care. We usually meet the third Thursday of each month at 5:45 p.m.

For more information, please contact Mindee Forman at 816-822-4033 or greenteamcccc@gmail.com.

Youth Elders and Deacons

Any member of the church can nominate a youth in grades 7-12 to serve as a youth elder or deacon. The deadline for nominations is Sun., Mar. 15. Youth Elders serve at the communion table during worship and can serve in-home communion to those who are unable to attend worship. Youth Deacons lead worship by collecting the offering and serving communion. Youth Elders and Youth Deacons are chosen as a process of the Nominating Committee. Forms are available in the parlor or on our website (www.cccckc.org).

Summer Camps

For many, church camp is the ultimate of faith experiences. A week at Tall Oaks Conference Center camp includes meeting other Disciples of Christ youth, participating in small groups, and learning how to live in faith. Activities include teams course (Chi Rho), high ropes (CYF), swimming, talent show, dance and many other fun events.

Slow Down, Reflect, Fast

by Dr. Charles Rolen, Interim Minister of Congregational Care

It snowed recently and I never feel more “southern” than on blustery, cold, snowy days. I was forewarned when I headed west to Kansas City there would be more winter weather than I am used to. I had no idea. It isn’t so much the cold or ice or snow that is proving the challenge to get used to, it is the “go ahead and deal with it” mentality. Linda, my wife, made a great observation during this recent “winter weather event.” “When it snows in Atlanta,” she said, “it is like a ‘mini vacation,’ everything grinds to a halt. Stores close, schools close ... it’s a great time to snuggle, nap, cook comfort food. Here, everybody just keeps going.” I don’t intend to address the virtues of being hearty and robust regardless of the weather or the inadequacies of “southerners” who hibernate at the sight of the first snowflake, but I do sense a message for the season of Lent – for us all.

On Ash Wednesday, we joined multitudes of sisters and brothers in Christ around the world and received ashes in the sign of the cross and our souls resonated with the daunting reality of our mortality. Getting in touch with our physical selves on Ash Wednesday can be like getting hit with a blast of arctic air. It is a deeply spiritual and moving thing to pause and face the limits of human life. For me, this is one of the great gifts of the season, the journey called Lent. These 40 days of Lent constitute a divine invitation: “Slow down, reflect, fast – that is, let go of some distractions – in order to focus and give God room to plant hope, to claim life, and to establish a reign defined by grace, mercy, and love.”

Facing the limits of human life can be empowering. Lent can be a season, like a winter storm in Atlanta, of slowing down, gathering, reflecting, and harnessing energy for the journey ahead. Unrealistic or deflating agendas and schedules might be some of the things we give up during Lent. Honoring our need for rest and recreation might be a spiritual discipline also worth considering. Lent is a time of reflection, preparation, and honing our gifts for life and ministry. Plowing through a winter storm is one thing, honoring our need for reflection and renewal is another.

“Let me take it upon myself to speak to my Lord, I who am but dust and ashes” (Genesis 18:27).
